Comment: Though it is not believed that the Soviets definitely plan to retain all of the firms listed in paragraph 4 of [redacted] and those shown in paragraph 2 above, the lists may be interpreted as further confirmation of recent reports of Soviet desire to retain certain strategic enterprises even after a state treaty. It is also possible, however, that the lists were compiled only to differentiate between unprofitable and profitable enterprises, and that the Soviets plan to dispose of all or some of the unprofitable concerns whether a treaty is concluded or not.)
